Water-sale plan must be opposed

The Champaign-Urbana Sanitary District is considering selling 500,000 gallons of water a day to the proposed Bulldog coal mine near Homer. The proposed coal mine would pollute our water and air, creating an unhealthy environment for our children.

It would also threaten the Salt Fork River, which provides drinking water for many. I urge readers to contact their representatives on the Champaign County Board and tell them to support a resolution against the sale of the water to Hallador Energy and Sunrise Coal.
