

WATER + WORDS

They say our planet should have been named Water rather than Earth.

Join us for a fun tour of the myths, legends, languages and words shaped by our waterways and intimately connected to our beautiful blue planet.

Sara Grady is an internationally acclaimed writer and lecturer who teaches storytelling and science & nature writing at Northwestern University.

THURSDAY OCTOBER 13

Chester Public Library

6:30pm

FREE & open to all

Top photo, DupAge River at Warrenville IL via city-data.com